NEWS ITEMS OF INTEREST

Charles A. Thilo of Bradford, Pa., had, possibly with good reason, a great distrust of banks. He now has undoubted good reason to distrust himself, for his wallet, containing $3,900, was stolen from under his pillow while he slept.

Adam Walker killed himself at Aurora, Ill., because he had been sentenced to imprisonment, and on the very same day Marcus Bopp, a tramp, committed suicide at Lancaster, Pa., because a magistrate refused to send him to prison.

Wood carving is receiving especial attention in Germany as an industry of national importance. The wood-carving schools of the empire, now numbering about one hundred and sixty, are to be increased to two hundred, and a great number of prizes will be distributed.

Major Vesey of Colonsburg, Galaway, Ireland, gained the ill will of the Irish laborers about him, and a few weeks ago, at night, seven acres of clover were dug up so as to render them worthless for pasturage. It is estimated that at least 200 men were engaged in this laborious and novel method of revenge.

Because a funeral party was behind the appointed time in reaching the church with one of his dead parishioners, the Rev. J. Hamilton of Lynsted, England, refused to let them enter the building, or to read the burial service. After much delay the coffin was admitted to the churchyard and placed in the open grave, and there left until the next day, when the service was read over it.

When the Czar, at the suggestion of the Czarévitch, intrusted Gen. Loris Melikoff with the semi-dictatorial office he now holds at St Petersburg, he is reported to have said to the latter: "My dear Gen., I am very sorry to be obliged to offer you, in all probability, as a target for the Nihilists. But as it is my duty to appoint to office the worthiest men, I cannot possibly spare you. Let us hope that the assassins will continue to aim at me alone."

Mary Mulhany hanged herself from a tree at Coshocton, Ohio, because she had been deserted by her lover, Henry Moore. That was fifteen years ago. Lately Moore was killed by the accidental discharge of a gun under the same tree. The people of the neighborhood not only believe this was a just retribution, but some of them declare that the ghosts of the pair may be seen walking there every night.

Killing Men for $100 a Head.

There was a feud between the Howrie and Westfall families, in Warren county, Iowa, and the Howries hired George Wheeler to kill the nine male Westfalls at $100 apiece, the price to be paid after the death of each, and $100 to be added for the ninth, making $1,000 for the whole job. Wheeler began work by shooting at the father of the Westfalls, but only slightly wounded him in the head. Nevertheless, he demanded $100 from the Howries. They told him that they would not pay for such bad marksmanship, and he could only get $10; so he exposed the plot, and all concerned in it are now in jail.

A Poor Housekeeper but a Good Prospector.

A farmer away down in Maine married a love of a school girl who didn't know the first thing about housekeeping or farming. When he took her home she neglected her household duties and went ranging around the farm "botanizing" and studying geology. The neighbors' wives didn't like her, but before they knew it she had discovered on her husband's land a mine worth $40,000.

JOHN SHERMAN'S VIEWS.

Secretary John Sherman made a speech at Mansfield, Ohio, on the first instant, which may be considered as a definition of his position as a Presidential candidate. He said that the Republican party is the party of principle and the Democratic party the party of expediency. The Republican party wins only on its bold leadership on questions of public policy. It proposes now to maintain the policy of resumption and refusing which must be supported hereafter by the friendly action of the Government. It proposes to maintain and enforce the constitutional amendments with all the power of the National Government, to the end that every man, poor or rich, white or black, may be secure in the full enjoyment of civil and political rights. It proposes to foster and extend the system of free public schools, to the end that every child of proper age may receive instruction in the primary branches of education, and thus give to the poor as well as to the rich a chance in life; so that the opportunities to win an honorable position may not be confined to any favored or fortunate class. He believes the Republican party is the only party in this country that has the courage and ability to carry out these great objects of national desire, and the controlling elements of the Democratic party cannot and ought not to be trusted to secure either of these two primary conditions of good government. Though there are many men in that party whose friendship I highly prize, yet I never concealed from them, or from you, my profound distrust of the principles and the tendencies and aims of that party; and now, more than ever, I regard its success in gaining control of the Executive and Judicial branches of the Government as an unmitigated calamity.

Mr. Sherman went on to vindicate the President's Southern policy. He spoke as follows concerning the prospects of the campaign: "The Republicans last Fall carried by a majority or plurality, every Northern State where elections were held. It is confidentially believed that Oregon and Indiana would have gone Republican if they had had elections, and that in fair elections, five Southern States would give a Republican majority. These are the changed conditions under which the campaign is entered. If the Democratic idea had prevailed our credit would be languid, industry flagging and our currency depreciated. The question now is, whether the Democratic policy shall supplant the Republican. A Democratic Administration would in the course of one administration change the Supreme Bench to a Democratic body. He alluded to the hold which the South has on the entire Government as a disgrace which would read strangely in history. If they carry the next election and gain complete control, then the rebellion of 1861 was a success. If not, they will submit to the equal rights of all classes. Every citizen in the South, as in the North, must be secure in the enjoyment of civil and political rights, and every power of the National Government must be exercised to that end."

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

Several European merchants have formed a company to sink an experimental artesian well there. This would be a good thing for some of Reno's business men to copy. Let us organize a company, let a contract and pay small assessments from time to time to keep the machine boring (the expenditure of a few thousand dollars would do the whole work, and it might be of immense advantage to Reno. There seems to be no prospect of aid from Congress.

RECENT NOTES.

And now it is the good Squire P. Dewey, the conscientious one of the J. C. Flood, who has himself accused of fraud. Rodman M. Price, ex-Governor of New Jersey, has filed in a San Francisco court a complaint charging the pious Dewey with swindling him in 1883 out of San Francisco real estate worth, with rents, etc., $1,000,000.

We particularly request that any one who makes experiments, large or small, or farming, without irrigation, will report all the facts to the GAZETTE for publication. This matter is one of great importance to Reno, and should receive more attention. This year crop would be sure.

A Grant delegation to Austin is one of the possibilities. There is a strong effort being made here to put up a of delegates and get them elected at the primaries, to handle the County Convention. Anti-Grant Republicans should be very sure of their men.

The solutions which the Carson Appeal furnishes of the "Fifteen" puzzle do not solve the problem, after all. One of the puzzlers assures us that in order to make them come out right it is necessary to turn the board.

What would the Strong Man do in case he were nominated and there should be any doubt about his election? Would he go into the House, and pull it down about the ears of the Representatives, as Sampson served the Philistines?

The French thought they needed a Strong Man when they elected Louis Napoleon President of the Republic, but he proved too strong for them. So would Grant for us, if he should be elected.

Would the Strength of the Strong Man be put forth for his country in the time of need, if he were not President? If not, why not?

Perhaps an Honest Man, with plenty of brains and political experience, would make as good a President as a Strong Man.

The "Young Scratcher" is getting to be a prominent figure in American politics.

WILL GRANT BE NOMINATED?

Marat Halstead Gives Reasons Against It.

From an Editorial in the Chicago Times.

Mr. Halstead—Grant is in about the fix of the Czar of Russia at this time—surrounded by thieves who envelope him and clamor for him, and their sole object is to fix him permanently in the White House that they may proceed in their organized robbery and public plunder without fear of general molestation. His nomination would absolve the Commercial from all obligations to support the Chicago candidate. The Commercial could demonstrate its usefulness from a position of armed neutrality. "And the Grant third-termers cannot count on receiving the support of the Commercial, then in their scheme of President making?" I asked.

Mr. Halstead—Hardly. The Commercial has no entangling alliances in 1893, as it had in 1875—no "quadripartite" to handicap and hamper it. It is as free as the frisky colts to raise particular h— in all directions.

"What would be the result at the polls in Ohio if Grant is the Chicago nominee?" I inquired.

Mr. Halstead—Why, sir, the smoker on horseback would be swamped worse than in 1872 in this city and county; and there isn't a particle of doubt as to the result. Grant could not possibly carry it, no matter who the Democrats may bring out. The Germans, almost to a man, will cut Grant; thousands of them who are always reliably Republican will be found voting for the Democratic nominee. The entire body of Jews in this city are against Grant, and you know they cast a large vote. I do not believe there are a dozen respectable Jews in this city who could be induced to vote for Grant. With these influences in the Republican ranks against him, what hope could his groomers have of his winning the race?

F. B. Plimpton, Mr. Halstead's chief editorial assistant, one of the best posted of wheel-horse editors, expressed views to me at a later hour and elsewhere, very similar to those uttered by his associate. He thinks Ohio would go against Grant by default—not by a revolution of votes, that thousands of staunch Republicans would refuse to vote at all, and that the cohesion among the independents would prevent them from organizing in favor of a third ticket.

One of the largest lumps of solid gold ever seen in San Francisco was on exhibition at the office of the Pacific Refinery, corner of Montgomery and California streets, for a short time Saturday. It was about fourteen inches long by seven in width, and six in height. Its value was estimated at $35,000.

A Capital Idea.

A new idea has been introduced in the English postal system which might well be adapted to this country. It is a new system of postal orders or checks. These are of four sorts—two shillings six pence, five shillings, ten shillings and fifteen shillings, for which one penny and two pence are charged. Anyone can obtain a supply of these on payment of the money and use them by filling in himself the names and addresses to which he desires the money to be sent, and by indorsing them they may be made available at banks, thus saving the bother of obliging persons going to the postoffice every time they wish to send or receive money by mail.

A Large Hog.

A hog measuring 9 feet in length, 7 feet 2 inches in girth, and weighing 1,137 pounds dressed, has been on exhibition at the Continental Market, Broadway, New York. Before killing the animal weighed 1,390 pounds. It came from Copake, Columbia county, New York.

JOTTINGS.

—Benton is assessed 50 cents.
—Internal revenue taxes are now due.
—R. F. Hoy has a wagon to sell. See 50-cent ad.
—Mr. Gillis has sold his home to Jos. Ferguson. Mr. G. is going to Missouri to farm.
—D. McFarland has a present of a bronzed turkey egg from the ranch of Mr. Forsythe. It is on the Arcade bar.
—A shot was fired near the Gazette office in the middle of the night by some unknown person. No one hurt.
—R. F. Hoy has a lot of redwood shakes coming. They are three feet long and will cost half as much as shingle roof.
—There will be a meeting of the Amity Club to-morrow evening at McClelland & Simpson's store. The Club shows symptoms of revival.
—The Judge appointed A. H. Manning foreman of the Grand Jury. B. F. Leete, G. W. Cunningham, J. H. Kinkaid and McPherson were excused.
—Pyramid is just twenty miles from the railroad at the nearest point. The limit of the railroad company's land grant is between Hymers' and the J. & K. shaft.
—The District Court opened for the spring term this morning at 10 o'clock. A number of cases have been set for trial and other preliminary business disposed of.
—The big horse may still be seen at Lee's stable. Mr. Perry is going to wait a day or two longer to give those wanting a good horse a chance to raise the price.
—Flint has a chunk of good looking ore which was sent in from the Crown Prince Saturday. It looks a good deal like the J. & K. They have five feet of it.
—Bids for the Winchel & Cunningham building and lot on Virginia street will be received up to Apr. 10. It is a valuable property and should prove a good investment.
—Another boiler from the Emma mill will be taken to Pyramid and put up on the J. & K. so that if anything goes wrong with one, the other will supply steam to keep things running. There are still three boilers left at the Emma.
—Eight car loads of cattle were shipped this morning. They were the same that left here Saturday morning, the train having been obliged to return owing to the fall of the snow sheds. Bailey's cattle, however, instead of going to San Francisco are consigned to Rocklin.
—Card of Thanks.

Intemperate Speech.

D. Banks McKenzie Before the Reform Club on Saturday Evening—His Remarks Bearing Rather Hard Upon Outsiders.

The audience at the Reform Club entertainment on Saturday evening was not very large, although the occasion was the benefit of D. Banks McKenzie. The programme previously announced was carried out with some exceptions, the singing being particularly good. The lecturer's address on temperance was not especially happy. It was marred at the commencement by a sneering allusion to those physicians who make any use of alcoholic stimulants in their practice. The lecturer said he thought his wife would show the door to any doctor who should prescribe such medicine for him. (This in the face of the fact that a majority of the highest medical authorities not only prescribe liquors in their practice, but even occasionally recommend their habitual use.) The whole subject was treated in a superficial way, the lecturer seeking to arouse no higher feeling in his hearers than the selfish fear that they might themselves become drunkards. After the close of his address, which awakened very little enthusiasm, Mr. McKenzie went through the audience asking for signers to the pledge. Little success attended his solicitations, and he returned to the platform with his vanity evidently sorely hurt by his failure. He then poured out a flood of abuse on those present who had refused to sign, saying in substance, that a man could not be a respectable, good citizen who refused to join the temperance movement. The lecturer stamped and flourished about the stage, pounded upon the table, and threw his arms and ulster about, his whole manner suggesting Lord Dundreary in a "tewible way." He said, among other things, that he was about to start an inebriate asylum, and that he felt sure that one or more of those young men present who had refused to sign the pledge would by and by come knocking at the door of that asylum for admittance, and that they were of no account anyhow. (These observations gave considerable offence to many persons in the audience. Indeed, the most of the financial aid and support the Club receives comes from citizens who are not numbered among its members.) Mr. McKenzie was followed by Judge Cossitt, and by Mr. Dixon of San Francisco, both of whom caught the sympathy of the audience, enlisting their attention and approval, and drawing out rounds of applause. (Mr. McKenzie, in the mass meeting yesterday, made an apology for his heated remarks of the previous evening.)

OPENING VIRGINIA STREET

A. N. Towne's Answer to the Petition for a Railroad Crossing.

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 2, '80.

D. & B. Lachman, D. A. Bender & Co., Manning & Berry, Hammond & Wilson, Thos. Barnett, Wm. Bleker, and others, Reno, Nev., Gentlemen:—Your petition of March 28, asking the Company to open up Virginia street to the public across our tracks and depot grounds, duly received.

Nothing would give us more pleasure than to be able to respond favorably to your request, but in consequence of the cramped facilities there for doing business properly and as promptly as our patrons require, we really need more standing room than we now have.

The line of Virginia street, if opened, would cross over five tracks and directly in the line of two switches, and so materially interfere with our station service that we cannot favorably consider your request.

With much regret at my inability to comply with your petition I remain

Yours Truly,
A. N. TOWNE, Gen'l. Supt.

The Blockade Raised.

The east-bound train came in very unexpectedly about 2:30 yesterday afternoon. There were three trains in one, in fact. No. 1, the overland, No. 3, the Virginia train, and the emigrants off No. 5. They had to wait at Blue Canyon for a slide of 800 feet and one above Emigrant Gap of sixty feet to be cleared away. The company gathered up all the men between Sacramento and the canyon with one train and those between Truckee and the Gap with another, and about 200 men were gotten together. Such a force would soon clear out any kind of an obstruction.

Good Trout Fishing.

There is now pretty good fishing in the river here, and at points above and below. Ward caught 100 pounds of trout on Friday and Saturday last. The fish in the river at Reno are not biting very well just now, but as the minnows get scarcer the trout will take hold better. The average weight of the trout caught in the river this season is about two pounds and a half. Minnows are generally preferred for bait, but trout eggs are good.

Helping His Father Out.

The Rev. Geo. R. Davis of Carson was seized with a fit of coughing while saying grace before dinner yesterday, and motioned to his son Sam to finish the invocation, which was plausibly concluded by Sam, as follows:
"For Christ's sake, (Billy, pass the cheese) Amen."
The words in parenthesis were a low aside to Sam's little brother.

APHIS HONEY.

A Complete Change in the Plute Sugar Company's Plan of Operations.

Lawyer Cain last evening received a letter addressed, "President of the Plute Sugar Company, Reno, Nevada." The letter was from San Francisco and began as follows:

Dear Sir: I have been informed that you are erecting a large mill to manufacture sugar out of sugar cane, for which I offer my services as Superintendent.

The writer then went on to give his qualifications, stating that he had had experience in the West Indies, Peru and the Sandwich Islands, both on plantations and in refineries.

Mr. Cain states that he has instructed Mr. Comstock, the Secretary of the company, to file the application. Owing to recent developments, the Company has decided to change entirely its plan of operations. At first the project was to grind the cane in a sorghum mill, and by boiling the juice, obtain the desired sugar. "But," says Mr. Cain, "since it appears that the 'Plute sugar cane' gets its name from the 'honey dew' deposited on it by the aphid, or plant louse, we propose to go straight to the bug for our sugar and let the cane alone. We think we can utilize profitably the saccharine qualities of the aphid, just as the silk worm has been domesticated, so to speak, and made so useful to man. Our idea now is to breed the aphid extensively and by careful selection of the best insects to develop it up to its highest capacity as a sugar producer. We shall use the Plute cane as the silk-growers use the mulberry tree, our aphides shall feed upon the one as the silk worms feed upon the other. This is the theory: The aphides living upon a particular reed make it their business to coat that reed thoroughly with 'honey dew.' They cease to secrete their honey as soon as the cane becomes thoroughly coated. Now our plan is to keep the insects constantly at work during the summer season. As soon as one reed becomes coated we shall cut it down and transfer its aphides to a fresh stem. The cut reeds will be thrown into kettles of boiling water, when the honey will rise to the surface and be skimmed off. We can then either crystallize it into sugar, or sell the crude product as Pure Aphis Honey. There will naturally be some prejudice against it at the start, but why shouldn't aphis honey be as good as the honey from bees?"

Mr. Cain went on to speak in the most glowing terms of the aphid, of its great possibilities, and of the wealth that his company is likely to amass through its utilization. "Nevada may never flow with milk," he remarked in conclusion, "but you shall see it flowing with aphis honey yet."

Personal.

A. Lindley went below last night to buy new stock.

A. Strassburger returned to San Francisco last night.

Bishop Whitaker returns to the Comstock to-morrow morning.

Dr. Hutchins was in town yesterday. He left for his mine in Beowawe last night.

The widow Murray's ribs are mending. She was able to be out of bed to-day.

Judge King and wife, and R. M. Clarke came down from Carson last evening.

Sol Levy is back from San Francisco. He will receive a splendid lot of goods soon.

That little addition to his family brought Charlie Davis back to Reno on short notice.

It will be nearly a month before Dr. Snow gets away from Reno. He has business to settle up and some patients he cannot leave.

Charles Stoddard has bought the Tilton ranch of thirteen acres near the site of the new state prison. His family will live there hereafter, and he will rent the house in town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hagerman go below to-night. Mrs. Hagerman will remain at the Bay some weeks for her health, and Mr. Hagerman will return to Reno in a few days.

Republican Club Call.

Believing that in organization there is strength, and as the time for electing delegates to the Austin Convention to select our representatives to the Chicago Convention approaches, we, the undersigned, call upon the Republicans of Reno to meet at the Justice Court room on Tuesday evening, April 6, 1880, at 7 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of forming a Republican Club: Orlando Evans, T. V. Julien, G. H. Cunningham, C. S. Varian, A. K. Lamb, T. K. Hymers, C. C. Chase, J. F. Holliday, Wm. H. Young, M. J. Smith, A. H. Barnes, J. L. McFarlin, W. H. Getchel, Geo. H. Fogg, M. Nathan, C. A. Briggs, Richard Nash, W. L. Bechtel.

Confirmation Service.

The rite of confirmation was administered by Bishop Whitaker to about sixteen persons last evening. The impressive service was witnessed by a large congregation. The Bishop made an admirable address at the conclusion of the service, explaining its origin and significance, and giving the most kindly advice and encouragement to the newly admitted members of the Church.

Bank Check and Book Work.

H. S. Crocker & Co. want a chance at the stationary and blank book work of Nevada. The firm are well known and are increasing their reputation constantly. They claim that they can do as good job work as the Gazette office and want to print bank checks, mining stock, etc. Read their advertisement.

SUSANVILLE NEWS.

Agitating for a New Road—Good Prospects for Crops—Spring Hains—23 Little Graves.

SUSANVILLE, April 2, 1880.

Capt. Merrill and E. A. Weed will in the near future leave for Reno, visiting all the farms on the way, to secure aid to build the road from your city to Alturas and Goose Lake. There is a great deal of talk here in opposition to the project. The majority seem to think it will be the death knell to Susanville by taking away the Northern trade, while others contend that it will be of incalculable benefit both to Susanville and the valley, as well as Reno. Work has been commenced on the Antelope hill grade. This will, when completed, be of vast benefit to the travelling public of the north; the present grade being almost impassable for a team to pull a load over.

The fall grain is coming up finely, and promises to be a good stand. The prospect of a large fruit crop is very flattering. The cold weather has kept the trees back until all danger from frost is over. This time last year the trees were in full bloom, whereas at present the fruit buds have not begun to swell. No plowing has been done yet, the ground being frozen until quite recently. The spring rains have commenced. Yesterday and to-day rain fell steadily all the time. The total amount measured this evening 1.54 inches.

The diphtheria has ceased its ravages. Twenty-three little graves mark the resting places of the victims of the scourge.

State and County Taxes.
The County Commissioners this afternoon fixed the rate of taxation on the $100 for the coming fiscal year as follows:

STATE AND COUNTY.
State	35
General	45
Indgt. Sick	7 1/2
Reno Bridge	7 1/2
Dallas road	7 1/2
School	20
Contingent	7 1/2
Building	12 1/2
General road	7 1/2
	1 70

SPECIAL.

Reno Corporation..... 25
Washoe School District..... 40

The other special taxes had not been determined on when the GAZETTE went to press. The State and county taxes last year, exclusive of those levied for special purposes, amounted to $1 80 on the $100, ten cents more than those of this year.

A Chance for All.

A change has been made in the manner of disposing of the meerschaum presented by a young lady to the Catholic Fair. It was at first proposed to give it to one of five named gentlemen as a premium on their good looks. The plan is now to let merit have a chance in the award. Any one can buy a pipe ballot for 50 cents and cast it for whom he or she pleases. This will largely increase the number of candidates and add to the fun of the contest. As the matter stands, Jim Sullivan is the first choice in the pools.

Another Victim.

J. C. Wheeler, an old overland conductor, has gone crazy over the fifteen poodle. He was running a train out of Los Angeles, and the first intimation of his insanity was a request made to the superintendent for permission to discharge his brakemen because they could not do the puzzle. He is now a raving maniac and there is but little hope of his recovery.

Snow In Sierra Valley.

Mr. Mapes returned from Sierra valley yesterday. He says that baled hay is now worth $17 per ton there. There is a foot and a half of snow on the western side of the valley. The snow varies in depth from one and a half to three feet.
